Brian Doyle

One of the funniest stand up comics in Australia today, Brian Doyle an Irishman of immense charm, renowned throughout the country as the man who worries... a lot! Brian has been a professional comedian for over twenty years and has backed numerous international acts on their Australian tours. His hilarious and wryly humorous tales cover all avenues of life - politics, sport, religion - no subject is sacred. Brian revels in interacting with audiences who in turn show their delight with his presentations.

Over four hundred television appearances to his credit - including hosting the 'Midday Show' - have made Doyle's face well-recognised among Australian audiences. His ability to communicate is renowned and his storytelling ability and witty conversation make him a crowd favourite.

Awarded the Australian Male Comedian of the Year six times, as well as being named Best Comedy Artist by the Variety Club. Brian has also been honoured with a lifetime achievement award from the Variety Club.

For Brian Doyle, nothing is sacred. But with his humour and joy for life, he is always enlightening on even the traditionally difficult topics: politics, sport and religion.

Down Syndrome NSW

People with Down syndrome can achieve an immense amount if we devote the resources. Every child with Down syndrome needs the best start through early intervention, special schooling and opportunities to learn, to work and to live independently or in supported accommodation.

Down Syndrome NSW provides professional services, resources, information, advocacy, guidance, education and opportunities for people with Down syndrome, parents, carers and families. We do this to achieve a vision: that all children with Down syndrome grow to achieve their full potential, leading confident, productive, rewarding lives as individuals, family members and citizens.
